INTERNSHIPS & RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, Research Assistant, 2018 - present

- Advisor: Prof. Alexander Schwing
- I aim to make (multi-agent) deep RL more efficient. That is, using less time and less data to learn the desired policy. We address the problem in four directions:
 - (1) Parallel and distributed training, which largely reduces RL training time (Publications [6, 8]).
 - (2) Better representation, which improves the sample efficiency (Publications [5, 7, 10]).
 - (3) Improved (multi-agent) exploration (Publications [9]).
 - (4) RL with efficient imitation learning (Publications [11, 12]).

Microsoft Research, Research Intern, Summer'21

- Mentor: Marc-Alexandre Côté and Xingdi (Eric) Yuan
- Works on RL agents that are capable of leveraging external knowledge to solve tasks more efficiently.

D-wave Systems, Research Intern, Summer'17

- Works on machine learning with quantum computing.

TSMC-NTU Research Center, Research Assistant, 2012 - 2015

- Advisor: Prof. Yao-Wen Chang
- Works on Electronic Design Automation with an emphasis on physical design and design for manufacturing (Publications [1-4]).
